e. Share on Facebook

f. Share on Twitter

g. Once on the "Promote via Text" page, enter your person email in the box provided for "recipient email", insert "This is [your name]" in the message to be sent box just before "Hope all is well" and then select "submit". Then go to your email and open the email. Copy the copy and webpage address in the top portion of the email, then go to your smart phone's text, enter the applicable cell phone number and paste the message you just copied. Repeat this for each cell phone number you brought today.

Step Three: Get your parents involved tonight!

a. Your parents will have received an email letting them know your required number of emails and texts for this fundraiser and how many you have entered today. It is imperative that you get with them tonight and make sure they follow the link in that email and share your fundraiser on their Facebook as well.

b. Have your parent(s) place an order or donation for your family.
